SMART FLOOR SYSTEM

Building the Future of flooring

At Stand-On Floor, we believe the exhibition industry is ready for a smarter, cleaner, and more sustainable way of working. That's why our modular raised floor system is designed with a clear mission: reduce waste, increase safety, and enhance usability — all while contributing to a more responsible event environment.

Our panels are made from recycled materials and built for a lifetime of reusability. Instead of single-use solutions that end up in landfills after just one show, our floors are reused again and again — from global trade shows to pop-up brand activations.

This isn't just about efficiency; it's about doing the right thing for our planet and our industry.

We're committed to four pillars that guide every product we create:

Sustainable

Safety

Accessible for Everyone

Cable-Friendly

By choosing a modular, tool-free, reusable floor solution, event professionals can reduce building time, labor costs, and most importantly — eliminate unnecessary waste. We're proud to support the global shift toward reusability and smarter construction methods.

We don't just build floors — we build a better way forward.

Why the Stand-ON Floor System was developed.

The Stand-On Floor System was created to solve the challenges that stand builders have faced for years. Traditional flooring systems are often heavy, difficult, and time-consuming to install, while also taking up a lot of transport space. As a result, floors are frequently seen as a cost-saving area, leading to dull, standard carpeted surfaces with no visual impact. We wanted to change this. With the Stand-On Floor System, we provide a lightweight, quick-to-install, and compact-to-transport solution that enables stand builders to save both time and costs while transforming the floor into an integral part of the overall brand experience.

NO BORING FLOORS

No standard carpet, but a stylish floor that perfectly complements the look and presentation of your booth.
